WORKSHOP ON PLAGIARISM

20th January 2018; DLIS, Univ. of Kerala

Organized jointly by
Department of Library & Information Science (DLIS) &
Alumni Association of the Department of LIS (AADLIS), University of Kerala

About the Workshop: Plagiarism is considered as a form of misconduct in scholarly communications. You, as a teacher/researcher, must have heard about it; or you might know what it is. However, there exists ambiguity about it in academic community. When does plagiarism occur? Are there different types of it? What may be the consequences if plagiarism is detected? How plagiarism in academic research is checked? Is there any established percentage to determine when plagiarism has taken place? Is there a rule of thumb to determine plagiarism? What are the softwares available? How to avoid plagiarism? This workshop aims to address all these questions and sensitize the participants on related issues.

About URKUND: The software offers a fully-automated system for handling plagiarism. In short, the students send their documents to their teachers by e-mail. Along the electronic route between student and teacher, the documents are checked against three central source areas: Internet, published material and student material. If any document displays similarities with the content in the three sources, the system will flag it for possible plagiarism. An analysis overview is generated and sent by e-mail to the teacher concerned. The analysis overview presents in a simplified form the information needed by the teacher in order to determine if plagiarism has occurred. Know more: http://www.urkund.com/en/
